The natural qualities of the travertine stone could present certain cavities, variations in color tone, grains and texture.

The Coliseu Pedestals designed by Gabriel Tan, with the Roman travertine tray made by Filipe Eira and the smoked ash base made by Carlos Barbosa, are inspired by the amphitheatres of ancient Rome.

The gently concave part of the wooden base matches seamlessly with the slope of the travertine tray, resulting in an object that is a functional sculpture combining two noble materials we love.
